HOLT HAS CAUSED APPREHENSION

Suggested That He May Have Placed Bomb on Atlantic Liner

DISASTER FOR JULY 7

Four Passenger Steamers Sailed From New York Last Saturday—Anxiety for Their Safety.

New York, July 7—That Frank Holt, who killed himself in his cell last night, after attempting to blow up the Capitol at Washington and kill J. P. Morgan, hid a bomb on a liner now bound from here to England, was feared by authorities today.

Before his attack on J. P. Morgan he sent a letter to the authorities saying a vessel which sailed from New York July 3 would be blown up on July 7.

Much secrecy was observed concerning the letter, but it was known by the authorities here and secret service officials in Washington were informed concerning it.

Whether the threat was empty or not, the police have no means of knowing.

Four steamers sailed from New York, July 3, for European ports. They were the Philadelphia, of the American line, bound for Liverpool; the Chicago of the French line, bound for Bordeaux; the Saxonia, of the Cunard line, bound for Liverpool; and the Kristianiafjord, of the Norwegian-American line, bound for Bergen.

It could not be learned whether any wireless warnings had been flashed to sea from Government stations.

It seemed unlikely today that the mystery surrounding Holt ever would be cleared up.

Holt's suicide in the jail here last night has stopped, temporarily at least, all efforts to identify him as Erich Muenter, the long sought Harvard professor who murdered his wife. Holt's leap of twenty feet to the stone flagging beneath his cell tier mutilated his head, making it very improbable that old friends of Muenter, now on their way here, can identify the German peace fanatic and the wife murderer as the same man.

No Boycott In Germany

Berlin, July 7—The German-American Trade League has just issued a statement denouncing the report circulated in Great Britain that a regular campaign for the boycotting of American goods exists in Germany. There have been attempts to exploit the feeling of aggravation stirred up by the exportation of American ammunition to the Allies, for the purpose of benefiting certain German goods. Little has come of it.

GERMANY'S REPLY MAY NOT SATISFY

Tentative Draft of Rejoinder Submitted Informally to Gerard

WILSON IS ADVISED

High Officials Agree That Approval Would Sacrifice Important American Rights.

Washington, July 7—Germany has submitted informally to the United States, through Ambassador Gerard in Berlin, a tentative draft of its reply to the note of June 9, which asked for assurance that American right on the high seas would not be further violated by German submarine commanders.

After careful examination of the contents of the proposed note as outlined by ambassador Gerard, which coincides with Berlin press dispatches of the last few days, high officials are practically agreed that the United States cannot without sacrificing important neutral rights express its approval of the German proposals in their present form.

The draft was shown to ambassador Gerard with the idea of eliciting from him an expression of opinion and he promptly asked for instructions from Washington as to whether the United States could make concessions. President Wilson has been advised of the situation in messages sent to his summer residence at Cornish, N. H., and the impression obtained to-night from reliable quarters was that the American government very probably would instruct its ambassador within a day of two to decline to express any view until after the formal reply is delivered to him.

Just what Germany proposed has not been officially divulged. Secretary Lansing to-day took the position that it would not be proper for him to disclose Germany's position as informally reported by Mr. Gerard without authorization from the Berlin government. He stated merely that there had been no exchange of views or informal negotiations between Germany and the United States, and declined to predict whether there would be.

From Berlin dispatches and authoritative sources here it is learned however, that the note as drafted by the German Foreign Office with Emperor William's subsequent approval would give assurance that Americans might travel with safety on the high seas on certain conditions imposed by Germany, such as the marking of belligerent vessels carrying Americans, notification by the United States to Germany of the date of departure and character of such vessels and an inspection insuring their noncarriage of munitions of war.

SHOT MAN AND BOY, TOO.

Youngster Used as Shield the More Seriously Injured of Two.

Cumberland, Md., July 7.—Samuel McKenzie, stable boss of the Consolidation Coal Company at Klondike mine, this county, is in jail here, and a boy named Benjamin Lengyell and a miner named Benjamin Mikesel, are at the Miners' Hospital, Frostburg, suffering from gunshot wounds, said to have been inflicted by McKenzie yesterday morning, the result of a Fourth of July quarrel while the two men were spending the holiday at Avilton, Garrett county. Both men returned home and early yesterday morning the quarrel was renewed.

McKenzie, it is said, left Mikesel and procured a shotgun at a nearby saloon. Mikesel saw McKenzie approaching with the gun, and thinking he would not dare shoot the boy lifted the lad in front of him. McKenzie blazed away at Mikesel, the shot taking off three fingers and wounding him in one arm and so badly injuring one of the boy's arms that it is feared it will have to be amputated.

TAKE GERMAN TRENCHES

British Also Capture 80 Prisoners, General French Announces In Report

London, July 7—Field Marshal Sir John French, commanding the British expeditionary force in France, reports that his force captured 200 yards of German trenches on the extreme left.

The text of his communication follows:

"July 6—Since the last report there has been no change in the situation on our front. The fighting has been mainly confined to intermittent artillery duels, the feature of which has been the employment by the enemy of a large quantity of gas shells, particularly in the neighborhood of Ypres During this period the enemy exploded eight mines at different points on our front without doing any damage. On the other hand, on June 30 we blew in 50 yards of the enemy's front line north of Neuve Chapelle.

"On the evening of the 4th north of Ypres a German sap was blown in by our howitzer fire and a platoon of infantry advanced to complete its destruction. The few Germans who survived the artillery bombardment were driven out with the bayonet and a machine gun in the sap was found to be destroyed.

"On the morning of the 5th the Germans rushed a barricade on the Ypres-Roulers railway after two hours artillery bombardment, but a counter-attack by our troops immediately recaptured the position.

"Yesterday morning on our extreme left north of Ypres we captured about 200 yards of the enemy's trenches, taking 80 prisoners. The French on our left contributed to the success of this enterprise with the fire of their guns and trench mortars."

CONCERN OVER ADRIATIC

Giant White Star Liner Scheduled to Reach War Zone Today

New York, July 7—The White Star liner Adriatic for whose safety some concern is felt because of rumors that she is marked for submarine attack is due to enter the "war zone" today, providing she has not radically changed her course.

With a passenger list of over 400 persons, and a partial cargo of contraband, the Adriatic considerably slower than the Lusitania, has attracted considerable attention because the threats made about her present voyage seemed to emanate from the same source that predicted the Lusitania catastrophe.

There are eight American citizens on board. Her passenger list, however, comprises prominent persons, including Sir Robert Borden, Canadian premier, who is on his way to confer with the British cabinet regarding the supplying of Canadian troops; Dr. Charles Sarslea, Belgian consul in Edinburg; Capt. F. Conway Jenkins, of the British Aviation Corps; T. H. Lyle, British consul at Siam, and several British army officers, returning after duty in the United States in connection with the purchase of supplies for their government.

The ship now is said to be the largest left in the trans-Atlantic service. Her commander, Capt. B. F. Hayes, is an officer of the Royal Naval Reserve.

The Adriatic's cargo of war articles includes 1,994 cases of cartridges, 1,337 cases of empty projectiles, 182 cases of empty shells, 20 cases of empty untimed cannon shells 190 cases of fuses, six cases of revolvers and four cases of rifles. The manifest shows that there are no loaded shells aboard.

The National highway near Baskerville was the scene of a second tragedy Monday when George M. Hix, son of Rex. J. M. Hix, of Stern, N. C., was killed and several others injured, when the chauffeur of the car in which they were riding lost control of the machine. The car was speeding rapidly around a curve toward an overhead bridge. It ran off the embankment, capsizing and throwing all the passengers out, The car fell across a wire fence and young Hix struck his head against a post.

YOUNG HUSBAND'S TERRIBLE DEED

Richmonder Fatally Wounds Wife and Attempts to Kill Himself.

INSANELY JEALOUS.

Desperate Man Had Telephoned His Mother-in-law of His Intentions to Murder Her Daughter.

(Special Dispatch To The Gazette)

Richmond, July 7,—Joseph Eldridge Smoot and his wife, whom the former shot and badly wounded last night, occupy adjoining rooms in the Virginia Hospital. The woman is in a serious condition. The man is getting along well from self-inflected wounds. Letters which the man says he found in his wife's trunk are said to be the cause for the shooting. They have the names of other men signed to them and are dated after the marriage of the couple.

Richmond, July 7.—Joseph Eldridge Smoot, a husband for four months, turned from the telephone in his room at 1707 West Main street about 7:35 o'clock last night after notifying his mother in another section of the city of his intentions, with a revolver leveled at his wife. She half-turned her head, and the bullet the young husband fired a second later entered her head just at the base of the brain The man fired a second time at his wife, and this bullet entered the body just below the left arm and passed inside toward the lungs.

Smoot turned the .22-caliber weapon toward his own head and fired. The bullet missed its mark. So also did a second shot. The third struck him in the center of the forehead, however, and glanced off. Smoot was in the act of firing again when his brother rushed into the room and grappled with him. The men fought across the half-reclining body of the injured wife, out through the door to the front porch, where John H. Smoot, brother of the intended wife murderer and suicide, wrestled away the weapon. Smoot is expected to recover. He is 21 years old, and is employed as a lineman by the Virginia Railway and Power Company. Smoot is said to have been insanely jealous of his wife.

Smoot's condition is not thought to be serious, for the bullet failed to enter the brain.

Mrs. Smoot's condition is critical, and surgeons at the hospital entertain slight hope for her recovery.

Unlike her husband, Mrs. Smoot feels no animosity. She wishes to live, but no word of reproach for her intended murderer has passed her lips. Smoot, on the other hand, at first spoke severely of his wife, especially to members of his own family. At the hospital, though, he expressed the desire to be left alone and allowed to die. He begged surgeons to leave him and to look to the woman he had attempted to kill.

Trouble between the young married couple is said to have started immediately after their marriage, four months ago.

UNION OFFICIAL SHOT DOWN

Answers Ring at Doorbell and is Victim of Attack by Stranger

Chicago, July 7—Charles H. Johnston, secretary and treasurer of the Brickmakers' Union, was shot twice below the heart as he answered a ring of his doorbell early yesterday. Physicians said the wounds probably would be fatal. His assailant, whom he failed to recognize, escaped.

Police attributed the shooting to labor troubles. The brickmakers have been thrown out of employment as a result of the action of the construction material interests in refusing to deliver building supplies until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled.

ACCUSED OF RECRUITING

Americans Forced Into British Army Complaints Say

Washington, July 7—Secretary of State Lansing has received vigorous complaints against the practice of British recruiting officers in seeking recruits from Americans who land in English ports aboard vessels from this country.

Just what pressure these officers bring to bear upon Americans was not explained by Mr. Lansing but he let it be understood that efforts had been made to put citizens of this country into the British Army and that Congressmen and Senator whose constituents were involved had taken the matter up with the Department of State.

The complaints come chiefly from New England and related to boys 15 16 and 17 years old, There has been no evidence or allegation that the practice was organized by the British Government, said Lansing. The embassy in London has been instructed to look into the matter.

Most of the Americans who have protested against the methods of the British recruiting officers it seems, shipped from Atlantic coast ports for England on cattle or horse vessels Some of them are adventurous students while others were picked up in America by shipmasters and given employment for the voyage.

HOLT COMMITS SUICIDE

Assassin and Dynamiter Blows His Head Off

New York, July 7—Frank Holt, the half-crazed professor of languages, who made a daring attempt last Saturday to kill J. Pierpont Morgan at his summer home at East Island was found dead in a pool of blood in his cell in the Tombs Jail yesterday at 7:35 o'clock, having killed himself whiel his keeper was absent for a few minutes.

The exact manner in which the man ended his life is shrouded in mystery, owing to the refusal of the Nassau County authorities to give out information, but it is believed he blew his head off chewing on a percussion cap which he had concealed in his clothing and which had escaped the eyes of the men who search-

Another theory is that he jumped from a window and was killed by the fall.

RUSSIANS CHECK ENEMY IN THE EAST

Onward Rush of Teutons Reported to be Losing Momentum

SLAVS BRACING LINE

English Press Now Taking More Hopeful View of the Situation in Galicia and Vicinity.

London, July 7—With the exception of certain sections between the Vistula and the Bug, the Austro-German rush in the eastern war zone seems to be losing its momentum.

The Russians have braced themselves and are holding at most points along their line, although the Austrians claim continued progress to the northeast of Krasnik and farther east, along the River Vieprz, in the neighborhood of Tarnogrod.

This is a critical section so far as a northward blow at Warsaw is concerned, but it is evident that the Russians are stiffening their resistance after their long retreat and the British Press, for the first time in weeks, takes a more cheerful view of the eastern situation.

It is noteworthy that Berlin's official communications speaks only of a gain on the Northern Poland front, leaving the southeastern field entirely to the Austrians, who in their official statement, emphasize that an advance on the centre between the Vistula and the Bug was made by "Austrians."

The quiet which had prevailed on the British front in Flanders so long has been broken by a British gain of German trenches to the north of Ypres. The advance was made after typical trench warfare tactics, backed by French artillery.

This part of the western front still holds its reputation as a gas area, Field Marshal French again ecounting how the Germans have been bombarding Ypres with gas shells.

The last 24 hours have brought renewed rumors that the Germans are planning to launch a new offensive in the west, their aim being to duplicate their Galician tactics and break through to Calais at all costs. Reports to this effect came almost simultaneously from Zurich, Brussels, Paris and Amsterdam. The London papers give them prominence, although how much is guesswork and how much is based on facts it is impossible to determine. According to the Zurich report 10 German army corps, which have been recuperating in the interior from the rigors of the Galician campaign, are now moving westward.

LAYING OF CORNERSTONE

Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons Will Conduct Impressive Services This Evening.

The laying of the cornerstone of the new high school building at the northwest corner of Cameron and West streets will take place this evening at seven o'clock. The ceremonies will be conducted by Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, who will be escorted by Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templar, and the Indian Guard Band. The trowel wielded by George Washington in laying the cornerstone of the Capitol at Washington will be used on occasion. The members of the City Council, as well as all other city officials and members of the school board have been invited to be present.

The lodge, under escort of the Old Dominion Commandery and the Indian Guard Band, will march from the Masonic Temple on Cameron street to Washington; thence to King; up King to West; thence to Cameron, the site of the new building.

Judge C. E. Nicol will be the speaker on the occasion.

The following will be deposited in the cornerstone:

A copy of the Bible; United States coins of 1915; copy of the Alexandria Gazette of July 7, 1915; names of the President of the United States, Governor of Virginia, Mayor of Alexandria, Council Committee on Schools, members of the School Board, roster of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, escort of Old Dominion Commandery Indian Guard Band; map of Greater Alexandria.

The first corner-stone laid by Alexandria-Washington Lodge was on the 7th day of September, 1785, when the corner-stone of the "Alexandria Academy" was laid with imposing ceremonies. The inscription on the plate deposited upon the stone was as follows

"The foundation of the Alexandria Academy was laid on the 7th of September, 1785, in the ninth year of the Independence of the United States of America, by Robert Adam, Esq., Master of Lodge No. 39, Ancient York Masons, attended by the brethren, and, as a monument of the generosity of the inhabitants, stands dedicated to them and all lovers of literature."

After depositing the stone in its place, the Worshipful Master distributed five dollars among the workmen employed in the erection of the building, as was then the custom. General Washington was one of the trustees and patrons of this Academy, and in the following December he endowed it with a thousand pounds, the interest of which he directed should "annually be employed in the education of necessitous orphans and other poor children."

This building occupies a site on the east side of Washington street, between Duke and Wolfe streets, and is still used for the purpose of which it was originally designed.

ARGUMENTS ON DEMURRER.

Suit of McGuinn's Administratrix vs. Southern Railway.

Arguments on the demurrer to the declaration were made today in the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia before Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr, in the suit of McGuinn's administratrix against the Southern Railway Company.

The suit is to recover $25,000 for killing of Henry McGuinn who was employed as a section hand by railway company and who met his death at Edsall's station, Fairfax county, when struck by a northbound train which was running on a southbound track on account of delay.

Great interest is attached to the suit because it is the first to be heard in the local courts under the federal employes liability act, as under the state law the maximum amount for a death is $10,000. Attorneys Leo P. Harlow and Charles Bendheim represent the complainant and Attorneys Moore, Keith, McCanlish, and Hall, the defendant.

The grand jury yesterday afternoon returned true bills on the following indictments: Allie Pitts, detaining, delaying, and opening parcel post package; Lawrence Meekins, breaking into postoffice; Peter Bonini, reusing stamped spirit bottle; Laura Campbell, Laura Bailey Campbell, J. T. Watsin, R. A. Watson, carrying on business of retail liquor dealers, without paying special tax; Myer Saal, trading as Myer Saal Distributing Company, reusing stamped spirit bottle, Edward Mitchel detaining, delaying, and opening parcel post package.

Our supply of Linens all comes from the old world.

"THE WAY WE CELEBRATE."

According to figures so far received, nineteen persons lost ther lives in celebration of Independence Day this year. Apart from these fatalities many were injured by explosions, some since dying, while there were fights and other unseemly occurrences. A number of automobile accidents, the results of carelessness in most cases, in which numbers have killed and wounded, are also recorded, with drowning accidents in different sections.

The following are a few of the Fourth of July horrors:

Mrs. William Winans, 24 years old, of Philadelphia, whose right arm was mangled Sunday night when a cannon made by her husband out of an old gas pipe was blown into bits by an explosion of powder, died yesterday.

Dorothy, 10- year-old daughter of J. B. Elliott, of Jersey City, who with her mother was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Smith, of Lehighton, Pa., died from burns she received Monday night from shooting firecrackers. Calvin Frantz, of Lehington, aged 30 years, is also in a very critical condition in the Palmerton Hospital as the result of a cannon exploding. If he recovers he will lose both eyes.

Clearfield, Pa., furnishes her quota toward the list of Fourth of July tragedies in the death of Foster Shaw and David Ogden, aged 15 and 19, the latter of whom lost both hands.

These two boys were celebrating with an old home-made cannon Monday evening. They conceived the idea of an increased noise effect by using dynamite along with blasting powder in the cannon. Young Shaw was holding the cannon steady while Ogden rammed the dynamite into the gun. The vent was open, and the heat of the gun helped things along to the extent that the cannon exploded.

Ogden's hands were practically blown off and several inches of bone of one leg crushed. Shaw was mangled internally.

With Frederick Carlin, of Wilmington, Del., a patient in a hospital in a critical condition from a fractured skull, Harry Dych and Louis Rosenfeld, of the same place are held without bail to await the result of his wounds. Carlin was exploding torpedoes against the side of the house Monday night when the other two made some remarks about his conduct, and an argument started. Carlin went in to the house and the other, it is said followed, and when a fight started Carlin was knocked down the stairs fracturing his skull in the fall.

Two accidents occurred in Federalsburg, Md., Monday. Fred, 13-year-old son of Polk White, was horribly burned on the arms hands and legs when a negro boy, in attempting to save himself from burns, threw a lighted gasoline lamp and ignited White's clothing.

A partly burned match, carelessly thrown away, ignited Mrs. Alonzo Colburn's dress while she was attending the flag-raising exercises at the new High School, and before the flames could be extinguished much of her clothing was burned from her

DOLEFUL REMINDER.

The 7th of July, 1865, will be remembered by some now living as one of manifest sorrow among Alexandrians, that is those native and to the manner born. It was the day upon which the alleged Lincoln conspirators were hanged in the old penitentiary grounds at the arsenal in Washington. There was one victim (Mrs. Surratt) who was well known in this city, where she spent much of her childhood and young womanhood. She was a sacrifice to public frenzy at a time when reason was temporarily dethroned. The so-called conspirators were declared guilty by a military court on the 6th of July and sentenced to be hanged the next day.

The reminiscenses of that eventful day have often been reproduced and today fifty years later, bring forth sorrowful recollections. The most pathetic feature was the distress of Mrs. Surratt's daughter, who repaired to the White House and made futile attempts to plead with President Johnson for her mother's life. She was denied permission to enter, and while she was rushing frantically to and fro in the grounds of the executive mansion Mrs. Surratt was expiring on the gallows.

The quartet executed for complicity in the crime—Payne, Herold, Atzerodt, and Mrs. Surrat—were buried in the arsenal grounds immediately after the execution. President Johnson granted permission to relatives to remove the bodies in 1869, whereupon they were taken from the arsenal to burying grounds in other parts of the city.

Herold's remains are now in Congressional Cemetery, not far from the southeast bridge over which Booth passed before he joined the youth in his endeavor to escape. There is no stone or mark to reveal his resting place. The whereabouts of Payne's body is not known, since the abandonment of the old Holmead Cemetery, in west Washington, where the remains were placed after being taken from the arsenal. Atzerodt's body lies in Glenwood Cemetery, while the remains of Mrs. Surratt, marked by a simple headstone, bearing the lone words, "Mrs. Surratt," are in Mt. Olivet.

BRYAN AS A JOURNALIST.

William Jennings Bryan in an address at the exposition in San Francisco yesterday advised signed stories and editorials in newspapers.

Here's a chance for the humble amanuensis. It is said that in ancient Rome rich men bought slaves which had been captured by the legions and sold on the block. Some of these captives, it is alleged, had much greater intelligence and mental powers than their masters. The latter, anxious to become prominent, employed these persons in writing books which were credited to their Roman owners. It is often suggested that the slaves poked fun at their masters, but the latter had not sufficient judgment to realize the fact.

The heroine of Eugene Sue's "Wandering Jew" (Mme. Cardoville) is represented as being wealthy, although entertaining plebian views. When entertaining she displayed much silver, upon each piece of which a name was engraved. A guest on one occasion was studying the names when he observed that his hostess evidently purchased her silverware outside of Paris, as the names on the same were not those of dealers in the French capital.

Mme Cardoville answered her guest by telling him all she possessed in that line was purchased of Parisian dealers, but that she invariably asked the name of the artisan of anything in that line which attracted her attention, and upon purchasing it insisted that the man who had conceived and executed the work be given the credit. She further said that most dealers in such wares were themselves devoid of genius, although they generally received all the credit. She therefore made it a rule to place the name of the workman instead of the salesman upon her silverware.

ANONYMOUS CORRESPONDENTS.

The Gazette occasionally receives communications from persons complaining of this and that, and often propounding pertinent queries. Most of such, however, fail to send their names and, of course, their missives fail to appear. The rule in operation in this office was formulated by the publishers of the Gazette about the close of continental days and those now at its head show no variableness or shadow of turning from it. A communication was sent to this office today in which the writer complains of certain local conditions. His identity to us is as much of a secret as the author of the Junius letters. Of course, it will not be published under these circumstances.

The Gazette kept a notice for many years at the head of its first page notifying correspondents of the futility of attempting to get anonymous communications in this paper. But it becomes necessary at times to repeat it.

Often thoughtless persons who desire to remain incognito would make the newspaper their bludgeon when they take issue with officials and others. It is stated again that such knights of the quill had better employ their time in some more profitable channels, as their effusions cannot be printed without their names accompanying their productions.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Nineteen persons are dead and 903 others were injured in the United States as the result of the two days' celebration of Independence Day.

Porter Crawford, a resident of Burkesville, Ky., was stabbed to death in his home yesterday. Crawford and his wife have been having trouble lately it is said.

A German submarine has evaded England's cordon of destroyers and underwear craft and is operating off the mouth of the Thames, menacing all ships bound for London.

Nearly 30,000 persons die from typhoid fever each year, while 400,000 persons are incapacited, according to a report issued yesterday by the Public Health Service in Washington.

Four robbers overpowered two watchmen at the Midway gardens, an amusement park, of Chicago, early yesterday, blew open the safe and escaped with $20,000.

The American steamship Platuria, from New York, carrying a cargo of petroleum destined for a Swedish port, has been held up by a German warship and brought into Swinemunde, Prussia.

The increase of the exportation of firearms for this country to Europe for the ten months ended June 1, last, over a like period for the year 1913-14, amounted to approximately 400 per cent.

That Germany has constructed thousands of aluminum boats of special design for an invasion of England is the assertion made by Commandant Civrieux, military critic of the Paris Matin.

Seven men were killed in a cordite explosion yesterday at the plant of the anadian Explosives Company at Belciel, Quebec. The persons were severely injured. Several others are missing.

In a collision between a Michigan Central passenger train and an automobile fire engine at a grade crossing near Bay City, Mich., Monday night two firemen were killed, one was fatally hurt and three others were seriously injured.

Two men were killed outright and another seriously but not fatally hurt, as the result of a peculiar explosion of several tons of powder yesterday afternoon, on the Naval Academy dairy farm, ten miles from Annapolis, Md.

A British airship squadron, accompanied by cruisers that attempted to attack the German naval base in the North Sea Sunday morning, was defeated by a detachment of German warships and forced to abandon the attempt.

Germany, it is said, plans to carry her submarine warfare into American waters. The plan provides for the establishment of submarines bases off the Canadian coast with a view to sinking every vessel leaving Halifax and Quebec for British ports.

Terror, which has gripped Mexico City acutely for the past few days, reached its climax a day or two ago, when a troop of soldiers, seeking to quell a rising food riot, fired low into a dense throng of people waiting for their allowance of cereal, and killed a number of women and children.

The Austrians are shooting the inhabitants of Trent who were arrested at the outbreak of the war. Last week there were three series of executions. Saturday's bag included 10 well known residents who were marched from the castle and shot by a squad of Austrian troops outside the city.

Resumption of work by some of Chicago's strikers began yesterday when 4,500 structural ironworkers recommended the labors they dropped more than six weeks ago. Employers generally took a more optimistic view of the whole situation and building material men and carpenters were reported to be making progress toward peace.

The train from Sunbur, Pa., entered the depot at Lewistown Sunday evening with the body of Leroy Shumaker, 7 years old, dangling from the pilot. Engineer William Stealy says he saw the head and shoulders of the child appear and shoulders ties of High Bridge an instant before the locomotive rushed over him. It was necessary to drag the Kishacoquillas Creek for the head before identification could be made.

As Rev. E. H. Wilson, pastor of Jeddo, Lattimer and Milnesville charges of Methodist Churches in Pennsylvania, was returning after conducting special Fourth of July services an unidentified man, hiding in an alley in Hazleton, stepped out, slashed him across the neck with a razor and escaped. The linen collar of Pastor Wilson saved him from being perhaps fatally cut. The collar was cut almost through at a point along the jugular vein. Mr. Wilson cannot account for the murderous attack.

While seated in the office of his Ninth street, Washington, place of business yesterday morning Louis Mandese, proprietor of the White Palace Lunchroom, was handed a letter addressed to him which, when opened, proved to be a "Black Hand" demand for $2,000. Refusal, the letted stated, would be followed by instant death. The letter said Mr. Mandese was a marked man, and that his prosperity must be shared with those less fortunate.

The war is having a disastrous effect in the Tyrol. Millions of silkworms have been thrown away, as there is nobody to attend to them. Disease has broken out in the vines for the same reason, while square miles of vineards have been cut down by the military authorities to prevent them giving cover to the enemy. The German frontier is still closed, not even employes of the Swiss railway being allowed to accompany trains.

Three boys, aged about 15 to 19, stepped into John Mosier's saloon in Chicago early yesterday and ordered beers. As Mosier set the drinks on the bar one of the trio drew a revolver. Three patrons of the saloon were relieved of their cash and $75 was taken from the cash drawer. Mosier and his customers were ordered to "beat it to the basement." Mosier was slow in obeying the command, and one of the bandits fired three shots at him, one bullet striking him in the head, killing him instantly. The three young robbers fled.

Albert Carter and Jamerson Hairston were fined ten dollars a piece and costs in Danville Monday for disturbing public worship Sunday morning at Mount Holly Church. The two negroes became involved in a fight in front of the church and the excitement was so intense that the colored preacher's words of wisdom quickly resounded through an empty hall, for most of the congregation went outside to see the fight. Hairston is an ex-deacon. Carter, too, is a dignitary of the White Rock Church.

For a short time Monday night the life of A. B. Rines, a young white man, hung in the balance in the course of a near-riot at Cowardin Avenue and Wall street, Richmond. A mob of excited negro men sought to get at Rines while he was in a small notion store, because Rines made an alleged insulting remark to a negro woman. The mob was held back, however, until the arrival of several policemen. In Police Court yesterday Rines was fined $10 by Justice Maurice.

That a man whose body was dragged from the pond at Lakeside, Richmond, Monday night was murdered, and that a woman may be able to throw some light on the mystery, are the theories upon which the police are working. The man's name was Joseph B. Kranitzky. He was 27 years old. A heavy iron kettle filled with stones and pieces of broken concrete was attached to the belt with a piece of wire. The man's coattail was also fastened to the kettle. Examination of the body disclosed a wound. Kranitzky had been missing from home since Wednesday. The dead man was recently a bartender. For the last week or ten days Kranitzky is said to have been out of work and very much disheartened and depressed.

The most destructive fire that has visited the northern neck of Virginia in years occurred yesterday morning at Kilmornock, destroying almost the entire business section. Only two stores in what has been for years the leading business town in this section of the state, were left standing. The total loss will exceed $100,000. The fire started about 3 o'clock in the upper story ofy an unoccupied frame building. A strong northwesterly wind was blowing at the time and the flames were driven from one house to another until all the buildings on both sides of the street were swept away. All the houses destroed, with one exception, were built of wood and were close together. There is no fire apparatus in the town and it was impossible to stop the flames.

CONDITIONS IN INDIA

Serious Unrest Among Natives And Several Outbreaks Against Whites Reported.

Manila, July 7—Serious unrest throughout India is reported by officers and passengers of the Spanish Mail steamer Alicante, which has arrived here after touching at Aden, Arabia, Colombo, Ceylon and Singapore. The official explanation is that the troubles are due to the present international differences, but it is said they are in reality the result of animosity felt by the natives against the white population.

There have been several outbreaks, it is reported, in the vicinity of Colombo, where it is understood revolting natives were severly punished by British military forces. Several Englishmen have been murdered and Colombo stores have been sacked.

Martial law has been declared, all Europeans have been armed and all British subjects physically fit have been mustered into the military service. Arrangements are said to have been made to transport all white women and children either to Australia or their home countries.

The native population of British North Borneo also is reported restless and many natives have been killed. Japanese cruisers are said to be patrolling the waters of Borneo.

A riotous outbreak in Ceylon by Buddhists against the Moslems, in which many persons were killed, was officially announced in London on June 7. This disorder, it was stated, was due to a sudden outbreak of racial and commercial animosity and not directed against the European population or the Colonial government. The latest telegrams state that the situation is in hand and improving.

The British official press bureau announces on July 2 that two fanatical Mohammedans had run amuck at Jhansi, India, killing a major, a captain and a lieutenant, a bombardier, and wounding a captain and a sergeant all of the Eighth Indian Cavalry. The act was said to have been an isolated one, in which no one but the two murderers were involved.

ROME FEELS SAFE

Does Not Believe Austrian Airships Will Attack It.

Rome, July 7.—Discussing the possible menace to Rome from an Austrian air raid the Giornal d'Italian capital may consider itself virtually safe because it is 235 miles from Pola and 213 miles from the Island of Lissa, the Austrian bases.

The airships of Austria have found it difficult to cover more than 315 miles in a hingle flight, and it is regarded as impossible for them to make a raid on Rome and then complete the return journey.

"My Dear Sir:—For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and later I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful, hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done." (Abbreviated.)

(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

Clicquot Club

Pronounced Klee-ko

Made in America — GINGER ALE — Best in the World

Drink It at the Ball Game When your throat is dry from "rooting," wet it with Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. Your cold bottle will hold two glassfuls, and will keep its life for four innings or more.

In Clicquot there's real ginger — the pure juices of lemons and limes, pure spring water (slightly laxative), pure cane sugar. Its mild ginger stimulus makes it the one safe beverage to drink when you are overheated. Clicquot Club Ginger Ale is a wonderful mixer; it is good alone or mixed with almost any other good drink.

Get a case into your cellar and lay two or three bottles in the ice box.
